to me

Jason:

I am a Kellogg graduate, currently serving on the Kellogg Alumni Council-North America.

My job is to assist you, in any way I can, in evaluating Kellogg's offer of admission and the Hirani Family Scholarship. Needless to say, I will promote the Kellogg experience and the Chicago location, but I think I can be reasonably conversant about the types of management education offered at the top schools that should interest you.

I know your schedule will be hectic, but I live just south of Sunnybrook, so I am readily available. [I promise not to quiz you about orthopedic matters!] But, I think you will be interest in some of the interdisciplinary work that students in management, engineering, law and medicine are doing at Kellogg. If you could give me a time that I could call you we can chat about any questions you have. Both my office and cell numbers have message services.
